Councilman Steven J. Flotteron has been a resident of Islip Town since 1995, currently residing in Brightwaters with his wife and children. After graduating from the State University of New York at Fredonia in 1984 with a bachelor's degree, Steve became fully licensed in insurance and equities and opened a successful insurance practice. As a civic leader, Steve teamed up with community leaders from Brentwood and Central Islip to form the Tri-Hamlet Alliance, an organization that lobbied successfully for the New York State Legislature to amend the Uniform District Court Act giving local government entities the power to go beyond neighboring counties to serve summonses to absentee landlords in violation of the law. He also lobbied successfully for the Town of Islip to enhance the Public Nuisance Law calling for stricter requirements.

Since his election and the commencement of his first four-year term of office in January of 2006, Councilman Flotteron has been at the forefront of many issues, initiatives and projects to better the quality of life for Islip Town residents. Councilman Flotteron has:

- Removed reserved parking spots for elected and appointed officials in all Town lots. (Sponsored resolution on April 25, 2006)
- Worked to bring a new website to Islip Town residents. (Sponsored resolution on April 25, 2006)
